

How to Grow Your Business Through Internet Marketing With Chris Brisson

This article is about the strategies and insights imparted by a successful entrepreneur and business coach which involves getting hands-on experience, capitalizing on hidden business opportunities, developing a niche, and the importance of taking action.

It is essential as it offers unique and experiential insight into successful entrepreneurship and business growth.

Doing these exercises will inculcate practical skills, stimulate creativity, and enable the application of learnings to real-world business situations.

Quote to remember from the Interview

"Every business has all these opportunities that people just don't see."

What You'll Learn From the Activity

Through the curated set of questions and activities, you will glean insights on identifying business opportunities, defining your business niche, understanding the pros and cons of an autopilot business model, and the importance of action for progress. These activities are designed to embed these practical lessons deeply for your immediate usefulness in your business journey.

Activity

Reflect upon a project you had previously involved yourself in. What attracted you to this project?

What skills were you able to develop while working on this project?

Describe a situation where you unearthed a hidden opportunity in a project or business initiative.

How did exploiting this opportunity benefit the project?

List three businesses and identify the potential unseen opportunities.
What steps would you take to capitalize on these opportunities?

Define your current or intended business niche?

If you do not have a defined niche, brainstorm and list potential niche areas that you could explore.

Why do you believe your niche is worthwhile pursuing or studying?

Reflect on the balance between creating an income and creating a business. What is your viewpoint on this topic?

Consider examples of autopilot business models. What are their advantages and disadvantages?

Based on your understanding of your market niche, would an autopilot business model be sustainable? Justify your answer.

How can you incorporate a level of "autopilot" into your own business?

Describe a time when taking action yielded significant results in your business.

Develop an action plan for the next 24 hours to enhance your business performance.

True or False: It is essential to get involved in other people's projects before starting your own. Explain your answer.

In your own words, explain the phrase, "Remember, taking action is the secret sauce to results."

How does the interview inspire you to adopt a niche strategy in your business?

Fill in the blank: To identify your niche, you need to _____.

If you had a chance to ask the Best Business Coach one question, what would it be?

List three key takeaways from the interview that you can apply in your current or future business pursuits.

Sentence completion: "The 'secret sauce' to results in my business would be _____".

How would you take advantage of the opportunities other people don't see in your chosen business niche?

Reflect on a situation where you thought you were creating a business, but in reality, you were only creating an income. What would you change?

What actions steps can you take in the next 24 hours to leverage your niche?

Multiple response: Which of the following quotes resonate with your business approach?:

- a) "It's almost better to cut your teeth getting involved in someone else's project."
- b) "Every business has all these opportunities that people just don't see."
- c) "The key is really just finding that sort of niche."
- d) "Everyone has bad credit. So that market and that niche is not going away."
- e) "Remember, taking action is the secret sauce to results."

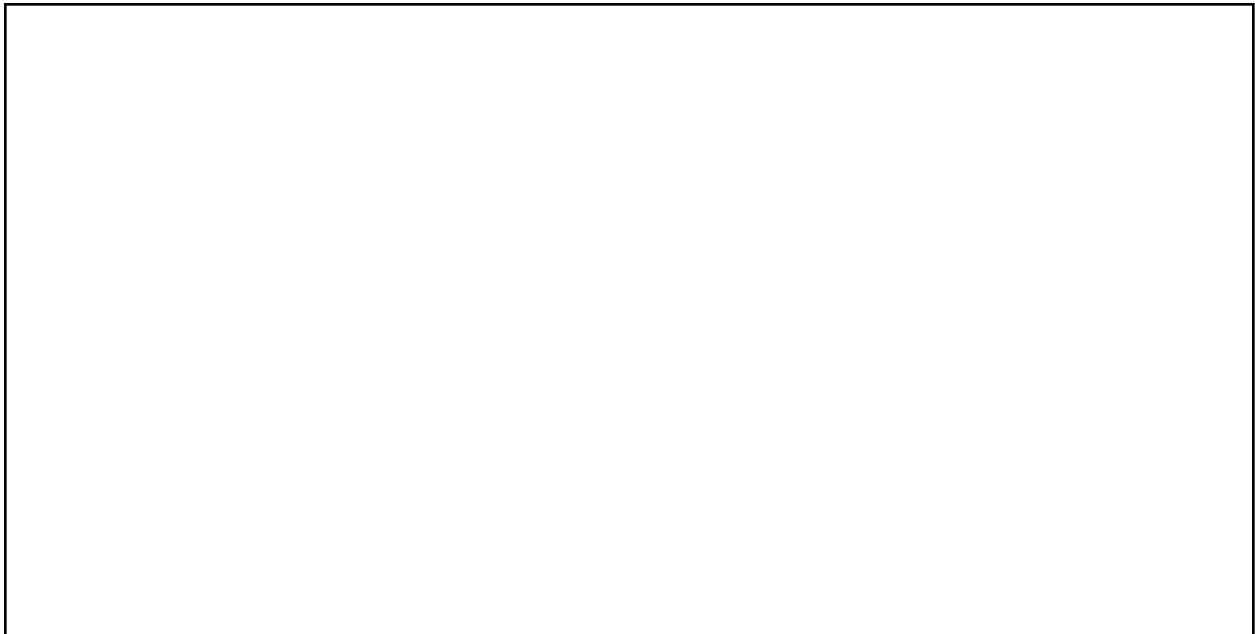

Have all of them, select the corresponding letters.

True or False: Niche strategies are a fad in the business world. Justify your reasoning.

Fill in the blank: "Identifying your niche has the potential to _____ your business."

Choose a past failure in your business journey, what could you have done differently using the insights from the "Best Business Coach"?

In conclusion, how has this article shaped your business growth and learning strategies?

A large, empty rectangular box with a thin black border, intended for the user to write their conclusion regarding how the article has shaped their business growth and learning strategies.