

Special Series 3 of 10: Daryl Urbanski on creating 7-figure, automated income streams from scratch- with Entrepreneur On Fire by John Lee Dumas

This article presents an inspiring and instructive interview with entrepreneur Daryl Urbanski on his journey to entrepreneurial success.

The topic is vital as it sheds light on successful entrepreneurship by offering valuable insights taken from Daryl's experiences, goal setting, mindset, and though the importance of having a supportive circle.

Engaging with these exercises can help instill the lessons learned from Daryl's journey, thereby helping readers advance their entrepreneurial journey.

Quote to remember from the Interview

Daryl: "To get a mentor and surround myself with like-minded people is the best advice I've ever received."

What You'll Learn From the Activity

These activities can help readers connect with the insights from the interview in a more profound way, facilitating their own reflection and learning. It's designed to make readers think about their entrepreneurial journey and how they can incorporate advice and experiences into their circumstances.

Activity

Write down your clear, defined entrepreneurial goal.
How do you plan to achieve this goal?

Write down a personal mission statement that contributes to your business success.

List three everyday problems which you think can be turned into business opportunities.

Why do you believe surrounding yourself with a supportive circle is integral to your success as an entrepreneur?

Identify three key people who motivate and inspire you to meet your goals. Is there a mentor in your life? If not, who would you like to have as a mentor?

Reflect on a situation where you encountered adversity in your entrepreneurial journey. How did you handle it?

Write a short paragraph explaining how business can be a platform for solving global problems.

How can you ensure that you are present and focused in your entrepreneurial journey?

Reflect on John's quote: "I love living in the moment. Let's make this the most impactful interview possible." How can you make this applicable in your business journey?

If you were to start over with only a laptop and $500, what will be your first step?

What strategic connections do you need to make in order to grow your business?

List three resources that could help you better your entrepreneurial journey. Do you believe in setting ambitious goals like Daryl Urbanski? Why?

What does the quote by Daryl, "To get a mentor and surround myself with like-minded people is the best advice I've ever received," mean to you?

Reflect on how you position problems as potential markets.

Name one book that you believe will help increase your entrepreneurial knowledge.

If Daryl Urbanski were your mentor, what is one question you would ask him?

Do you align with Daryl's thought experiment of starting fresh with only limited resources? Explain.

Reflect on your state of mind in your entrepreneurial journey. Are you mindful and present?

What global issue do you think your business can solve?

How would you make your business more impactful?

Pick experience from Daryl's journey that resonates with you, write a paragraph on how you can use that lesson to improve your business. Based on Daryl's advice, what changes would you make in your business plan?

Reflect on how you react to adversity or problems in your entrepreneurial journey.

Write down three strategies that you can use to remain focused and present in your business journey.

Based on the interview, write a few lines on how you can make your business about solving problems for the world.

Compare your entrepreneurial goals with those of Daryl. How can his approach influence your goal setting?

Reflect upon Daryl's journey and identify key takeaways that you can apply in yours.

--